Types of medical institutions in Japan

The type of medical institution you need differs between time of use, if it is an emergency, and with the level of severity.

If you need doctors' assistance.  ● Visit a clinic or general hospital during regular hours.
● Otherwise, go to after-hours reception (varies by region).
See the list on p. 4 for medical institutions that are well-prepared to accommodate foreigners.

▶ P.4
▶ P.5

Emergency hospital  * Accepts emergency care patients. Available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

▶ P.6

If you do not need doctors' assistance.  ● Nearby pharmacy
● Drugstore
* Consult a pharmacist, if possible.
* Some types of medicines cannot be purchased at night when the pharmacist is not there.

How to use medical institutions and important points

Procedure from hospital reception to payment

Reception

Fill out medical sheet.

Receive doctor examination and treatment, and receive a prescription.<1>

Complete payment.<2>

Submit prescription to pharmacy and purchase medications.<3>

Important

The medical care system varies by country. Avoid difficulties by learning about them in advance. Ask for a general estimate of the treatment cost at reception.

* There is a limited number of medical institutions that can accommodate other languages.

<1> Be sure to listen carefully to the explanation of the examination results.

<2> Payment here is the cost for treatment received up to this point. Keep in mind that payment by credit card is only accepted at major hospitals. Clinics generally accept cash only.

With cash-free international travel medical insurance, no payments are necessary. Note: The cash-free conditions vary by insurance company. Please check beforehand.

<3> You will be charged separately at the pharmacy for any medicine you need. Some medical institutions provide in-house prescriptions.

How to use an emergency care hospital

Ambulance
Call 119

Be transported to an emergency care hospital in the event of a traffic accident or other emergency.

If you need an ambulance, show the sentence below to a nearby Japanese person so they will call one for you.

救急車を呼んでください。

(Please call an ambulance.)

Procedure from arrival of the ambulance

Important
You cannot choose what hospital you will be brought to. Depending on your condition, you may be given treatment without questioning, so it is important to fill out p. 7.

AED

There is a device that can be used if someone has heart problems and collapses while out of the home. This device is called an Automated External Defibrillator (AED). When actually using the device, you find illustrated instructions inside the AED package after you open it, so follow those instructions. Many airports and other public facilities have AEDs.

Emergency earthquake alerts

Earthquakes are common in Japan, and the Japan Meteorological Agency gives an emergency earthquake alert before strong shaking from an earthquake is expected. This is a unique system in Japan. Immediately after an earthquake occurs, the seismic intensity of strong shaking in each area is predicted and alerts are broadcast as soon as possible on TV, radio, mobile phones, and other media to inform people. If you see or hear an emergency earthquake alert, stay calm and ensure your safety. Also, if you are in trouble, go to a police box.

Protect your head.

Step away from furniture.

Step away from walls.

Beware falling objects.

Do not rush outside.

Get off at the nearest floor.

Do not break suddenly.

Put on your hazard lights and slow down.

Major earthquakes are sometimes followed by a tsunami (seismic wave). About 3 minutes after an earthquake has occurred, the Japan Meteorological Agency may issue a massive tsunami alert, tsunami alert, or tsunami advisory. If a tsunami alert or advisory is issued, immediately retreat to safe, elevated evacuation places away from the coast.
